

Skype for Business & Teams

SKC Communications is a Microsoft MyAdvisor certified partner. SKC provides professional services for Microsoft environments that adhere to the MyAdvisor principals by providing proven practical guidance and expertise tailored to meet your intelligent communications goals.

ENVISION

SKC will facilitate information gathering and provide insights to design and prepare for a Microsoft UC implementation while defining business cases and assessing organizational readiness for implementation.

ONBOARD

Our expert technical resources will deliver communications services and implement new features and capabilities while ensuring robust user adoption.

DRIVE VALUE

The solution value is driven and maintained by providing high quality and reliable communications service through monitoring, reporting, and support services.

WHY CHOOSE SKC FOR MICROSOFT?

- MyAdvisor certified professional services
- Access to a team of Microsoft certified engineers
- Microsoft Cloud and Communication competency
- Full-service monitoring with 24x7 staffed engineers
- Certified video integrations with Skype for Business & Teams

HOW CAN SKC HELP WITH YOUR MICROSOFT ENVIRONMENT?

SKC Communications' Microsoft engineers can provide professional services for a full range of project needs. If you are just starting your journey with Microsoft Intelligent Communications, SKC can provide evaluation, design, and planning services and a variety of proof of concept environments to test out solutions and use-cases. SKC can provide needed help with environment upgrade or blocks of support hours to augment administration and troubleshooting resources. If you currently have a Microsoft communications environment, SKC can help with project-based support such as adding audio conferencing to the solution or expanding web and video conferencing to an additional user base. Customized user and administrator training and active monitoring services for on-premise and cloud solutions are additional services SKC has to offer.

Contact SKC Communications to find out how Microsoft Cloud voice services might fit into your organization telephony plans.